Go the extra mile for Sport Relief

THE city is going the extra mile to help the poor.

Milton Keynes will host one of the flagship Sainsbury's Sport Relief Miles this spring.

Following the huge success of Sport Relief in 2006, a mile event will be taking place on Sunday, March 16.

Milton Keynes Milers will be able to take to the streets on a route right through the heart of the city, along Midsummer Boulevard.

Runners can choose to do one, three or six miles and sign up at sportrelief.com.

Comic Relief spends the money raised to help vulnerable people both in the UK and in the world's poorest countries.

John Best, chief executive of Milton Keynes Council said: "We're delighted that Milton Keynes has been selected to host this exciting event and are looking forward to seeing thousands of residents taking part, getting sponsored, and raising money for Sport Relief."

Live coverage from the events will be shown during The Sport Relief Mile Show on BBC ONE.

Limbering up: Ales Parez (MK Lightning) and Gareth Edds (MK Dons) and Peter Heizer (MK Lions) encourage John Best and mayor Mike Barry to go the mile for Sport Relief at the regional launch at Bannatynes Health Club in CBX

Ban for one-eyed, deaf motorist, 83, who towed a trailer at 88mph

BY ALICIA BABAEE

alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A ONE eyed, deaf motorist has been banned from driving for speeding after he confused his rev counter with the speedometer.

The 83-year-old from North Ninth Street, Central Milton Keynes, was caught doing 88mph on a 50mph limit single carriageway in Perth, Scotland.

Maurice Hollyfield, who has a glass eye, was towing a trailer on the A9 in his new car. He has been banned from driving for 45 days.

Perth Sheriff Court heard on Friday that it was the second time in less than a year that the pensioner had been caught speeding.

Sheriff Lindsay Foulis said: "By any stretch of the imagination he is going at a fair lick and it's not even a dual carriageway, it's a single carriageway.

"He has a previous conviction for speeding in July 2006.

"He should know the difference between 50, 60 and 88mph. He would see the trees flying past at a great rate."

Hollyfield told the court he had been reading the rev counter instead of the speedometer.

The court heard that he had only ever passed a very basic driving test using a lorry in the army when he was a youngster.

As well as the ban, the retired British Aerospace inspector was given a £300 fine for the offence on the A9 at Waterloo, in Perthshire on April 4 last year.

Solicitor David Holmes, defending, said: "He said the reason for his driving was that he was listening to loud music on his cassette player because of his deafness.

"It was a new car and the instrument panel was very different. He kept glancing at what he thought was the speedometer, but it wasn't.

"He is not without a sense of humour. He told me he really likes the car, now that he knows where the instrument panel is."

Ambulance is trashed as crew treats patient

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THIEVES have plumbed new depths as these pictures reveal.

Raiders ransacked an ambulance while its crew tended to a sick patient..

The incident took place just after midnight on Saturday morning while the vehicle was parked outside a house in Buckthorn, Stacey Bushes. The crew was inside the house treating a patient.

South Central Ambulance Service says thousands of pounds of damage was done.

It is believed the offenders tried to steal the ambulance as they destroyed the dashboard.

They also stole a satellite navigation unit and a number of items of medical equipment and drugs.

These included an oxygen cylinder which was recovered by police nearby in an area search later.

David Williams, divisional head of operations at the ambulance service, said: "Actions like this are inexcusable and utterly mindless.

"Had the patient been suffering life-threatening injuries and required a journey to hospital the actions of those responsible could have proven fatal.

"This vital vehicle is now unusable and, at this stage, it is not known if it can be repaired.

"If anyone has information, I would urge them to contact Thames Valley Police."

The ambulance service is calling for the thieves to return equipment that is still missing including two screens which are unusable except in the ambulance and a bottle of entonox' a gas used to relieve pain.

Community service sentence for hit-and-run death driver

A HIT-AND-RUN driver has been sentenced to community service following the death of a Bletchley man.

Hasnath Choudhury, 41, was ordered to serve 150 hours of unpaid work at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Friday.

Carl Bere, 28, died instantly when he was hit by a Vauxhall Vectra travelling southbound on the A5 near Ashland in the early hours of Sunday, September 23 last year.

Choudhury, of Westbourne Road, Luton, admitted being the driver and failing to stop or report the incident to police.

Ros Wilmin, prosecuting, told the court that Mr Bere had been on a night out in the city centre with his brother.

After leaving a nightclub they caught a taxi but after a disagreement Mr Bere insisted on getting out of the taxi and walking home.

Carl Bere: Killed after he decided to walk home after a disagreement with his brother

The court heard that Choudhury, a father of three, had been working late at the Kardamon Indian restaurant in Stony Stratford, which he part owns.

He was driving home to Luton with a friend when the incident occurred.

Ms Wilmin said: "There was no evidence to support death by dangerous driving or careless driving, and no evidence that he had been drinking.

"He was aware that he struck something but he wasn't aware what it was."

David Gough, defending, said: "This is a tragic accident. There was no road lighting whatsoever and it was totally unexpected for Mr Bere to be there. Mr Choudhury is very remorseful of what has happened. Unfortunately he decided to drive on."

Choudhury was also charged with having no motor insurance at the time.

He was given a 12 month community order for 150 hours of unpaid work and must pay £60 costs.

His licence was endorsed with eight points, taking him over the 12-point limit and disqualifying him for six-months.

Woman's body found floating in fishing lake

THE body of a woman has been found floating in the fishing lake at Emberton Country Park.

Police were called to the scene shortly after 7am yesterday morning when a member of the public reported finding a mobility scooter at a layby next to the lake.

Officers searched the area and the police diving team discovered a body in the water.

A statement from Thames Valley Police said they were trying to establish how the woman came to be in the lake.

It said: "A number of dog walkers have already been interviewed and it appears the scooter was seen by one of them last night."

The death is being treated as unexplained and a post mortem will take place later this week.

The woman had not been identified as MK NEWS went to press.

Anyone with information should call Milton Keynes CID on 08458 505505.

An affordable place to live: Protesters outside MK civic offices in a call for more council housing

Build more council houses call

A PROTEST urging the council to build more designated housing took place outside the civic offices yesterday.

Eamon Bobey and his wife Janette, from Netherfield, say Milton Keynes residents are being duped into believing that affordable housing is available and plentiful.

But they claim this is not the case and want more built.

Mrs Bobey said: "Houses, houses everywhere but yet nowhere to live. That is the feeling of the homeless, the families in B&Bs, the thousands of people on the council housing waiting list, and families living in overcrowded conditions. People on low incomes, the poorest in our communities and people struggling to rent privately are not being considered, we are building homes for sale that very few can afford to buy let alone rent."

Her husband co-ordinated a petition for more council housing to be built, and now has almost 1,150 signatures.

It was to be handed over to the council at the cabinet meeting last night.

"With the council you have a secure tenancy, unless you do something really wrong.

"People out there can't afford to buy their own property, they can't afford private rental."

But Dawn Irvine, spokesman for Midsummer Housing Association, said: "We alone completed 154 new homes in Milton Keynes in the last financial year and we'll be doing a similar amount this year too. Although most people are familiar with the housing shortage, we wouldn't want people to think that there is no affordable housing being built just because the council isn't developing any."

Inquest into carpenter's death in Jurys Inn scaffolding collapse

Dead man's son heard father call

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

THE son of the man who died after the Jurys Inn scaffolding collapse could hear his father calling to him as he slipped in and out of consciousness in the rubble.

Carpenter John Robinson, 49, from Condor Close, Eaglestone was on the scaffolding with his son Mark when it collapsed on April 11, 2006.

He died in hospital three days later.

Giving evidence at his inquest yesterday, his wife Christine Robinson cried as she told the jury how her daughter rang her at work in Newport Pagnell on the day of the collapse.

Mrs Robinson, a nursery assistant, said: "My boss came in and said there was someone on the phone for me in distress.

"It was my daughter, initially she was really upset and garbling.

"She said dad and Mark had been involved in a collapse at work. She said 'Mum do you think they're dead?'."

Mrs Robinson rushed to the site on Witan Gate before being directed to the hospital.

She said: "I remember being in disbelief, thinking it was probably a mistake."

The father and son pair were put in beds opposite each other on admission to MK General, but were moved next to each other the next day.

Mrs Robinson said that initially everyone was more worried about her son, but later her husband - who had broken ribs, lacerations to his left thigh and eye, and abrasions to his calf - began feeling ill.

On the day of his death she received a call from a friend asking her to come to the hospital, then another one seconds later telling her to hurry.

She was not there when he died, but Mr Robinson's mother was.

He had suffered a blood clot, which experts say was probably as a result of the fall.

Mr Robinson, who spent ten days in hospital with broken ribs, a punctured lung and cuts to his head and legs ,said: "I just heard a sliding, like boards sliding. I felt myself going to the left.

"I don't really remember much. I started to fall and next thing I knew I was on the floor.

"I was going in and out of consciousness, I could hear [my dad] to my right. I couldn't see him."

Mr Robinson told the jury that he was surprised when a loading bay, which carried heavy pallets of tiles to each level of scaffolding, was dismantled the day before the collapse because there was still work to be done.

Until then, workers had taken tiles from the pallets as and when they needed them. They had also called for more pallets to be lifted to them when they needed them

But the day before the collapse Mark Robinson received a phone call telling him there were two pallets of tiles on the loading bay that needed lifting onto the scaffolding. Then the loading bay was removed.

During the next few days Coroner Rodney Corner will hear evidence from experts trying to determine the cause of the collapse.

Get behind council house campaign

SIR – When Milton Keynes Council took over the housing stock from the development corporation it failed to honour the promises made by the DC, stating it would house the next generation when people first moved there.

Since then we have seen a constant decline in the council housing stock.

Last year the council decided to close two sheltered housing schemes which resulted in the loss of around 70 council flats which we are in great need of.

The council has become more reliant on private landlords and HIMOs as a way of dealing with the council housing shortage in MK.

It openly admits it cannot meet the demand for council housing and those who approach the council to be housed, council housing is their first preference, yet it has no intention of building new council housing in MK, which is not impossible to do.

Other areas have done so like Leicester, Newcastle, Wandsworth, Croydon and Lincoln. Recently Norwich has bid for Government funding to build new council houses for the people of Norwich who need it.

What is preventing MKC from doing this?

As residents we need to lobby the council, the government, our MPs and our local councillors to support the campaign to get new council housing built in MK.

If we want to house this generation and future generations we need to be doing it now.

Get behind the campaign.

Barbara Walford
The Hide, Netherfield

■ SIR – I am writing in support of the campaign to build new council housing for the people of MK who need it.

Many people have spoken about their experiences, the hardship that themselves, their children and people in rented housing face in trying to find somewhere suitable to live.

The lack of available council housing and people being compelled to rent privately with the consequence of higher rents and shorthold tenancies, the private rented sector is not a stable market.

People can be asked to leave their homes when the landlord decides to sell up as long as they are given four weeks' notice to quit.

We are constantly told about housing developments with affordable housing.

The reality is its not really that affordable, buying seems to be the only option.

Most people in housing need want a roof over their heads, a place to live that does not mean they have to own it. What they need is controlled rents, secure tenancies, local contol and accountabilty. This is what council housing has to offer.

We need to do something now to bring about the building of new council housing.

What we are seeing in MK is one and two bedroom flats and executive housing which is out of the price range of the majority of people living in MK.

While MK has been designated as a growth area by the Government, tens of thousands of houses are proposed to be built here with the view of people moving here.

Milton Keynes Council is failing to address the housing needs of local people which is why we need to lobby them and the Government into maintaining and building new council housing in MK.

This will not happen voluntarily, residents of MK need to campaign for it.

Leanne Duggan
Netherfield

Touch of wind

SIR – Following matters at some distance, I have not been blown away by the reasons why Emberton is such a good location for a wind farm.

The whole matter seems to be being wind assisted by profit and a feel good factor with little consideration for the environment.

There is a matter that I am yet to have explained and that is how much of the electricity generated will actually be used in Milton Keynes that could not be generated by siting the equivalent number of turbines in existing and probably windier locations?

I expect it is so miniscule as to be not worth calculating.

Even if the figure is high, which it will not be, is it worth encroaching on Emberton?

There is no point in placing the wind farm near to a particular location just to satisfy the ego of some green fanatic looking for a gong.

For many years I have been a strong supporter of environmental policies and good practice that are sustainable and justifiable. This includes creating the world's first planning gain for compost bins for new build; initiating the British Standard for environmental management systems way back in 1991 and suggesting the see through (pink) recycling sacks.

Some schemes such as domestic solar panels, water butts and wearing a woolly jumper are far more attractive and realistic than blotting our shrinking green land and sky line.

Paul Bartlett
Woodside, Stony Stratford

No to national ID cards

SIR – Sam Potts has just added to the long list of why ID cards are a waste of time.

Fake ID cards will be out on the streets before the real ones are printed.

Not to mention that fact that only last month the Government wrote to me telling me that they had lost my 12-year-old daughter's data.

A clear demonstration that governments of any political persuasion cannot be trusted with the data they now have, let alone the extra stuff they want.

I would ask all of Milton Keynes to join with me in refusing to have an ID card.

Emma Hall
Glovers Lane, Heelands

Democracy mix-up

SIR – I am writing in support of the Bradville N E Residents' Association and chairwoman, Margaret Burke, for standing up for the views of the local residents.

Instead of Cllr Irene Henderson criticising the efforts of the association she should be commending it for getting the views of the local residents and presenting them to the cabinet.

Cllr Henderson seems to be a bit mixed up in relation to how local democracy is supposed to work.

In simple terms, you put the local issue to the residents, you get their views and then you make a decision based on a the majority – 267 local residents against the closure of the housing office, none in favour.

What Cllr Henderson has omitted in her response letter is the fact that people who use the office will have to pay £1.50 bus fare one way to get to civic offices from Bradville.

There is no setdown or bus stop along Silbury Boulevard.

If they have the use of a car they would have to pay at least £1 per hour to park outside the civic offices.

These are some of the issues surrounding the closure. In effect it will put people off going to the civic offices to get their problems addressed.

Margaret Burke is right to remind voters of that. These are the decisions that need to be taken into consideration when voting in the local elections. What we need are more independent people standing who will represent the views of the community and not the political party they belong to.

Eamonn Bobey,
Chairman, Netherfield Residents' Association

Council should not be penalising commuters

SIR – I agree with William Morland's comments last week that our local politicians should be helping the thousands of us who commute.

Commuters living in Milton Keynes certainly do get a raw deal.

We are all constantly bombarded by central and local government edicts about the need to commute in the most environmentally friendly way and yet we are penalised for doing so.

As a standard annual season ticket holder for train travel from Milton Keynes Train Station to London Euston, I am charged in excess of £4,400.

This coupled with daily car parking charges of up to £6.50 (higher than in other commuter towns such as Harpenden and Luton) is beginning to make commuting to London prohibitive and a cost of which is now in many cases not covered by London weighting.

Milton Keynes was built in part as a commuter town and a large part of the money invested in Milton Keynes by way of housing and retail spend is earned by those who commute into London.

It is time that Milton Keynes Council realised this and did not seek to penalise commuters with exorbitant car parking costs and instead offered commuters car parking facilities on a much more favourable basis and also campaigned to London Midland and Virgin trains to keep train fares realistic.

Traveling by train may be green, but it certainly makes a huge dent in the pocket.

Scrub-a-dub-dub: MK Hospital's domestic services 'deep clean' team in action in Ward 7

Hospital blitzed by 'deep clean' team

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Hospital has begun an intensive cleaning procedure to fight infections.

The local NHS Foundation Trust has started a 'deep clean' of all wards and inpatient departments as part of a national NHS strategy to help reduce healthcare-associated infections.

Bed frames will be steam cleaned, machines will be scrubbed and curtains, cupboards, soft furnishings and walls will be washed.

Bob Heavisides, director of facilities, said: "All our 22 wards will be undergoing a deep clean, which is an intense clean beyond the thorough cleaning usually undertaken by the hospital.

"This represents a significant investment in infection prevention and control at Milton Keynes Hospital.

"The trust has already made good progress in bringing down infection rates, but we're now taking things one step further with this deep clean programme.

"It should give people confidence that things are being done."

He added that the operation is part of a wider approach to cleaning which will cost the trust around £100,000 each year.

The cleaning team includes staff from the hospital's nursing and infection prevention teams, who will also clean vents and grills during the operation.

The programme will operate on a ward-by-ward basis to minimise the disruption for patients and will be completed by March 31.

Citizen staff to strike over pay

JOURNALISTS at Milton Keynes Citizen will go on strike for three days over pay.

Members of the National Union of Journalists voted overwhelmingly in favour of strike action after their pay claim was rejected by the newspaper's management.

Editorial staff had been offered a three per cent pay offer from parent company Johnston Press.

The union said it was calling for a 3.5 per cent increase to "reflect the increased number of titles being produced with reduced staff numbers".

This week the Chapel announced plans to strike on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A statement from Johnston Press said: "Following extensive pay negotiations, members of the NUJ employed by Premier Newspapers Ltd in its Milton Keynes office have voted in favour of industrial action in support of their pay claim.

"The union have given notice of their intention to take strike action for 3 days commencing on 21 January 2008.

"The overall company offer is generous given the current economic climate. It combines a fair basic increase with significant improvements in the existing salary structure.

"Whilst we will always endeavour to take a constructive approach, we have now made our best offer.

"We have made it clear to the journalists that industrial action will not result in any improvements and will benefit no-one.

"Steps have been taken to ensure that the quality and frequency of our publications will not suffer as a result of any action taken by the NUJ in Milton Keynes."

Not guilty plea by Barri White

BARRI White has pleaded not guilty to murdering 18-year-old girlfriend Rachel Manning.

Mr White, 28, from Epsom Grove, Bletchley, appeared at Luton Crown Court on Monday.

Judge John Bevan QC said the trial could be fixed to start on November 24 if a bid for a High Court judge is successful.

The trial is expected to take around three weeks.

Rachel Manning was found dead at Woburn Golf Club on December 10, 2000.

MK LETTERS EXTRA

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Copse decimated

SIR – With reference to B M B Glade's letter concerning the tree cutting havoc in Great Linford.

I have to report that the tree cutters have been at it again at the site of the medieval fishponds that tie Middleton and Milton Keynes Village.

The surrounding copse has been totally decimated.

What was a reasonably sheltered area is now completely exposed and moorhens that were at home there have decamped.

It seems perfectly obvious that the people employed by the council to carry out this work have no idea of the damage they are inflicting on the habitat.

Peter Slimmon
sent by e-mail

Housing misconception

SIR – I read with interest Mr and Mrs Bobey's comments about the lack of council housing being built in Milton Keynes.

As chief executive of Midsummer, the largest housing association in Milton Keynes, I was concerned that they believe that because 'the number of new council houses to be built is nil' that 'the number of new homes for local people is nil' and would like to correct this misconception.

Midsummer and a number of other housing associations develop affordable homes for rent and shared ownership in Milton Keynes.

We work in a close partnership with Milton Keynes Council which, as the strategic housing authority, defines local housing needs and agrees all proposals for new, affordable homes developed by Midsummer and other associations.

Like all housing associations, Midsummer is a not-for-profit organisation.

Our annual surplus is recycled to create additional affordable homes, to maintain our existing stock of 4,400 homes in Milton Keynes and to support a wide range of local community projects.

In 2006/7, Midsummer completed 154 new affordable homes in Milton Keynes. 25 per cent of these (39 homes) were for affordable rent and we re-let a further 110 homes in Milton Keynes in the same period, with the majority of nominations coming from the Milton Keynes Council housing waiting list.

I share the Bobey's concerns about the affordable housing shortage in Milton Keynes.

Like the council, Midsummer has long waiting times for all types of affordable housing and is working with Milton Keynes Council, the Housing Corporation, English Partnerships, landowners and private developers to increase the number of affordable homes built.

I would be very happy to meet Mr and Mrs Bobey to show them some of the work that Midsummer is doing in Milton Keynes to address the affordable housing shortage.

Maggie Sherlock
Chief executive, Midsummer Housing Association

Woodshredders are savaging vegetation

SIR – 'Get out and about in our parks this winter': your January 9 issue exhorted, to enjoy the scenery and the wildlife.

Today alongside the A421 in Woughton Park I noticed savage cutting back of vegetation taking place – the nearby residents will doubtless notice the resultant increased traffic noise.

Wander anywhere along the Ousel valley and see hardly any ground cover left and the river looking almost like a bare ditch.

Mature areas of blackberry that people and birds have harvested for years have been completely removed.

Habitats for butterflies, small rodents and birds are seriously dwindling.

Of course it is important to prevent the vegetation from getting clogged and overgrown but more and more of our parkland and roadside greenery is being hacked back in some insane persuit of formal tidiness.

Perhaps the city has grounds maintenance contracts that run, come-what-may.

Wouldn't it be better to to spend more on litter bins and litter clearance and a little less on wood shredding?

Dr Andrew Humphries

No cig surprise

SIR – I was not surprised to read that in nearly 80 per cent of pubs visited by trading standards officers, children were able to buy cigarettes without being questioned.

More and more you see youngsters hanging around near local shops drinking and smoking.

More alarmingly, it seems to be the young girls who are the most active when it comes to having a cigarette. The other day I walked around to the nearby shops in Shenley and passed a group of around youngsters hanging around near the park.

A quick head count found that half a dozen of the girls had a cigarette in their hand, three of them were also swigging from a beer can.

'Ambitious' aims to raise schools' standards in city

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

Authority hopes to reach national levels after finishing 115th out of 148 in Government's league tables

Cllr Sandra Clark

SCHOOLS in Milton Keynes experienced mixed results in the Government's 2007 annual league tables.

Overall Milton Keynes scored poorly, finishing 115th out of 148 local authorities based on finalised exam results from last summer.

The score is based on the proportion of students achieving the Level Two threshold – equivalent to at least five GCSEs at grades A star to C.

The tables, published on Thursday by the Department for Children, Schools and Families, show that under 40 per cent of students in Milton Keynes achieved the target.

Sutton was the top authority in the country with 65 per cent.

Among secondary schools, Sir Frank Markham Community School was ranked as the 17th worst in the country for GCSE results, with only 10 per cent of the students achieving level two.

Denbigh School was rated as one of the most improved schools in the lists.

Its results have improved each year, with the percentage of students achieving level two rising steadily from 42 per cent to 61 per cent over the last four years.

Elsewhere it was top marks for St Thomas Aquinas Catholic Primary School, which made the top 200 highest attaining primary schools in England at national curriculum Level 5 in the Key Stage 2 tests taken by 11-year-olds.

Two local primary schools ranked among the 200 poorest for the Key Stage 2 test – Simpson School and Drayton Park School.

A-level results told a different story, with Milton Keynes Council keen to highlight the best ever results achieved by post-16 students.

Top overall performers and those attaining above national performance levels were the students at Ousedale, Shenley Brook End, Walton High and Denbigh.

Cllr Sandra Clark, council cabinet member responsible for children and young people, stressed that a number of schools are now involved in support programmes with council officers and outside consultants.

She said: "Our expectation is that, with this extra support, we will see big improvements in 2008 and beyond and quickly reach and then exceed national standards.

"That is our ambition."

Top brass leave MK Partnership

Leaving: Jane Hamilton

MILTON Keynes Partnership's chief executive is to retire at the end of March.

Jane Hamilton has played a leading role in the city's ambitiious growth plans for the past four years.

Since being appointed in 2004 she has been responsible for the development and delivery of numerous projects and initiatives which have seen Milton Keynes mature into an area of regional importance.

Her retirement comes at the same time that her boss Sir Bob Reid steps down as chairman.

Mrs Hamilton pioneered the introduction of the MK infrastructure tariff, which provides a funding mechanism to secure infrastructure needed to support growth, she has also been responsible for the development of the long term growth strategy for the city which sets out plans for the expansion of Milton Keynes until 2031.

She said: "For the past 15 years I have been committed to the growth and development of Milton Keynes, firstly working for the Commission for New Towns and most recently with Milton Keynes Partnership.

"I have greatly enjoyed my roles in the city and during my time I have seen some fantastic changes and am immensely proud to see how Milton Keynes has blossomed into a vibrant and dynamic city.

"I feel it is time for me to pursue my other ambitions in life and I am confident that I am leaving behind a city that will go from strength to strength."

Your say on council tax increases – and on cuts in services

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

'WE tax you, so you should have your say' claims the cabinet member for finance at Milton Keynes Council.

Cllr Sam Crooks is calling for all city residents to fill out a questionnaire on budget proposals for the next financial year.

The council is proposing a council tax rise of 3.9 per cent which, it says ,is no more than the rise of inflation.

This means an increase of £39.65 per year, or just over 76 pence per week, for the average Band D property.

In order to keep the rise down, despite a Government funding cut of £5million, the council has proposed 'effiency' savings of £3.7million and other savings of £1.13m.

This means some funding and service cuts including a reduced book fund for libraries, a cut in the sports activities delivered by the council, a reduced subsidy to day nurseries, a reduction in the Trading Standards service and an increase in charges at council leisure and sports facilities.

The Liberal Democrat cabinet also proposes to invest more money in tackling crime and anti-social behaviour, cleaning up litter, activities for young people, dealing with houses in multiple occupation and raising educational standards.

> The council takes about £1,200 a year from you so its important that you feel that, even if you resent the payment, at least you had the chance to question it
> – Cllr Sam Crooks

The consultation questionnaire also includes proposals from the Labour and Conservative parties on additional investment where they differ from the cabinet.

Entitled 'Your money, your choice: Budget consultation 2008/09', it can be picked up from all main council offices and libraries and was printed in MK NEWS last week.

Cllr Sam Crooks said: "It is important to reply to this because we tax you. The council takes about £1,200 a year from you so its important that you feel that, even if you resent the payment, at least you had the chance to question it or to raise issues about it. Its not a question of the city hall on the hill deciding something, you have got to get in there and say what you think."

He added: "What are the things that most affect people's lives? Anti-social behaviour, litter, the visible environment, car parking – all of those things the council are responsible for.

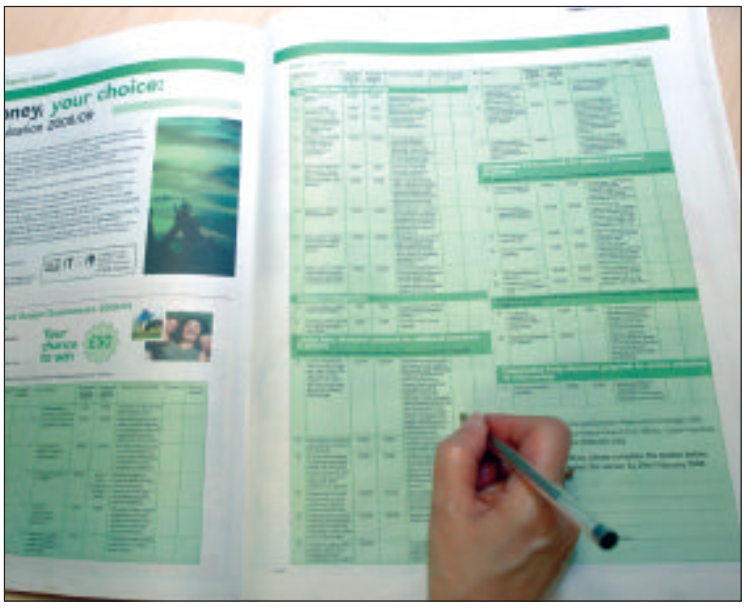
"So this is the opportunity to say whether you think there is enough money being spent on them."

The deadline for the budget consultation is February 4.

You can also take part by:

- Visiting the council's website at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/budget-consultation,
- E-mailing budget@milton-keynes.gov.uk
- Calling 01908 252696
- Writing to Budget 2008, FREEPOST ANG7122, Milton Keynes Council, Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Milton Keynes, MK9 3JB

The final budget, including council tax levels, will be proposed by the cabinet on February 19 and agreed by full council on February 26. Both meetings are open to the public.



Oops! Council cocks up on consultation document

THE council has apologised for a mistake in a consultation form which could cause confusion for residents over budget proposals.

The form was printed in a Milton Keynes Council document called 'Your Money, Your Choice: Budget consultation 2008/09' and in MK NEWS last week.

The mistake is in the first row of the third and fourth columns of the table showing Liberal Democrat proposals for additional investment in services.

Instead of 'investments' the table suggests that the figures show the 'proposed savings' for the years 2008/09 and 2009/10.

Chris Rowe, from Kingsmead, says this is misleading and may confuse Milton Keynes residents.

"People might look at that and say 'that's great' and think it will lower their tax and tick the box. Even if this is only 10, or 15 per cent of residents, it skews the figures too much," he said.

"They allow us to have our say but this actually makes the questionnaire completely invalid."

A council spokesman said: "We are really sorry about this. This is quite a detailed document and an error has crept in. We apologise for any confusion. Obviously this is a very important time of year with the budget consultation."

■ The form will appear again in next week's MK NEWS.

A funeral director walks through Coffee Hall in front of the two hearses carrying Thomas and Siobhan Maughan

Death crash sister and brother buried

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

Moving tribute: An Irish leprechaun among more traditional flowers

THIS is the funeral cortege for the brother and sister who died in a road collision in Northern Ireland on New Year's Eve.

Oldbrook residents Thomas James Maughan, 16, and his sister Siobhan Caroline, 22, were involved in the fatal crash on the morning of their grandmother's funeral in Enniskillen.

Several newspapers have reported that the 16-year old was driving at the time, although police will not confirm this.

Their bodies were returned to England and their funeral took place at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church in Coffee Hall on Thursday.

Tributes included an Irish leprechaun and floral arrangements spelling out 'brother' and 'sister'.

The pair were passengers in a Mercedes which collided with a Volkswagon Passat in Ulster.

Their grandmother Margaret Maughan's funeral service was halted temporarily as mourners awaited news.

A police spokesman said: "A full and thorough investigation will be carried into the circumstances surrounding this tragic, fatal crash and the results will be reported to the coroner for the purposes of an inquest. At this time there are no further details."

The pair were travelling on the Irvinestown Road, Enniskillen, in the direction of Irvinestown. The driver of the Volkswagon was taken to hospital for treatment.

Decline prompts Parks Trust tawny owl survey

THE haunting call of the tawny owl is one of the most recognisable bird sounds but the popular bird may be at risk.

That's why Milton Keynes Parks Trust is calling for all owl lovers to listen out for this familiar hoot and help to survey our local owls.

While the tawny owl is one of the UK's most numerous native owl species there is some concern that it is declining, particularly in urban areas.

To establish how many tawny pairs there are nesting in Milton Keynes, The Parks Trust is conducting a survey at the end of January.

Liz Woznicki, spokesman for the trust said: "The records collected will help the trust to monitor and protect this beautiful and charismatic bird.

"As part of its work to give the tawny owl a helping hand this spring The Parks Trust has placed ten new owl nest boxes in mature woodland locations around Milton Keynes.

"Their natural nest sites are large tree cavities, but these sites are becoming increasingly rare.

"Since the tawny owl nests early in the year, from February onwards, there is no time to lose."

For those interested in joining the survey a training session will run at the Cricket Pavilion, Campbell Park at 8pm on Thursday, January 24.

Following a short presentation on owl identification and behaviour, the group will head outdoors and listen to tawny owls calling.

Call Martin Kincaid on 01908 255376 or visit www.theparkstrust.com to book a place.

If you cannot make it to the meeting you can report any tawny owls you hear close to where you live by calling the number above or visiting the website.

The Parks Trust is particularly interested in tawny owls heard around housing estates and towns.

Public meeting on extension at primary school

PLANS to enlarge Middleton Primary School to cope with the demand for more pupil places will be discussed a public meeting at the school next week.

Proposals have been made to extend the school onto a neighbouring site reserved for education.

The extension would allow the school, which currently has 420 pupils, to take on 30 more children each year.

This would increase its capacity by 210 to a total of 630 places.

A 12-week consultation on the proposals by Milton Keynes Council ends on February 6.

The meeting will take place on Monday at 7pm.

The action is being considered as development in the east of Milton Keynes is putting increasing pressure on schools in the area.

The council expects all local schools, including the new school to be built in Brooklands, will be full by 2009.

Chronic skin complaint: Timmy the cat

Ban and fine for mistreating cat

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A WOMAN has been banned from keeping cats after her pet was found with an untreated skin complaint.

Hazel Todd, 47, of Mercury Grove, Crownhill, appeared at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Monday.

She was found guilty of causing unnecessary suffering to her black short-haired cat called Timmy.

Magistrates banned her from keeping cats for 10 years, ordered her to pay £1,000 in costs and gave her a two-year conditional discharge.

The cat was found to be suffering from a chronic skin complaint on its head and in its ears which had caused his ear canals to become almost totally obstructed.

A vet who examined him in June last year estimated that the cat had suffered for five to six months.

Todd had not taken the pet to see a vet since December 2006, despite RSPCA inspectors advising that he should receive veterinary treatment.

In mitigation Todd said that she had not realised the seriousness of the problem.

RSPCA inspector Claire Ryder said: "This cat was suffering simply because he had not received the veterinary treatment he needed. It could so easily have been avoided.

"The disqualification shows that the problem was taken seriously."

The cat made a good recovery but has lost much of his hearing.

He was confiscated into the care of the RSPCA and is now being made ready for re-homing.

Antisocial behaviour tops hit list

ANTISOCIAL behaviour is leading a list of priorities set by residents for authorities in Milton Keynes.

Milton Keynes Community Safety Partnership (MKCSP) has been asking residents from each estate to list their top three priorities that need to be tackled.

So far eight out of 14 neighbourhoods have told the MKCSP that anti-social behaviour and youths is their main concern.

The targets are set following public meetings and questionnaires completed by residents.

Volunteers from Neighbourhood Action Groups (NAGs) will now help the police, Council and fire services to tackle the key problems, while MKCSP surveys a further 18 neighbourhoods.

Antisocial behaviour was number one priority for the following estates (some are paired together to form a 'neighbourhood'): Olney, Furzton and Shenley Lodge, Central Bletchley and Industry, Wolverton and Greenleys, Denbigh and the Leys, Woughton South, New Bradwell and Stantonbury, Stony Stratford.

Residents of the Lakes Estate listed just one priority rather than three: Serpentine Court.

Parking and rubbish were common concerns while other problems included car racing, underage drinking, vandalism, landscaping, houses of multiple occupancy, speeding and abandoned vehicles.

Central Milton Keynes Library: More books loaned than any other in the country – bar Norwich

Library books place in country's top three

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

IT'S official – city residents love books.

The latest figures place Central Milton Keynes Library second in the country based on the number of items loaned each year.

It has been pipped to the post by only the Norfolk and Norwich Millenium Library, which also came up trumps on a list of the country's most visited libraries.

The Central Milton Keynes Library did not make it onto the list showing the most visited libraries.

Milton Keynes central library's stock lending record is impressive, with the library loaning 771,588 items last year.

These figures have been released by the Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountancy (CIPFA) following a survey.

But this year the council has proposed to cut the library book fund budget by £50,000.

Nationally the number of visitors to public libraries has been falling.

Milton Keynes' library service has the highest number of online issues out of all the unitary authorities in the country.

Cllr Euan Henderson, cabinet member with responsibility for libraries, said: "I'm absolutely delighted.

"Milton Keynes Central Libary has been a very very successful library since it opened. I was there, I think it was in 1981.

"It's partly because an awful lot of people work in central Milton Keynes, but also because it is a very pleasant library to be in. We have a very excellent library staff.

"Bearing in mind that last year we increased the book fund by £50,000, it is one of the more flexible areas of the council's budget.

"The cut is only a proposal, we will see how people respond to it."

The central library is not alone, with other libraries being situated in Olney, Stony Stratford, Wolverton, Bletchley, Newport Pagnell, Woburn Sands and Westcroft. Another is due to open in Kingston at Easter.

Julian Mund, director of operations at CIPFA, said: "This survey illustrates clearly the major role libraries still play in the cultural life of our towns and cities.

"Whether they are used for borrowing books, films and music, doing research or using the internet, libraries are at the heart of our communities and need to be given the strongest support."

Drunks face new police powers

DRUNKS causing trouble face stricter police controls in Newport Pagnell, Wolverton and Greenleys.

Police will be given new powers to order drunk people to stop behaving anti-socially and will be able to confiscate and dispose of alcohol.

Milton Keynes Council's regulatory commitee made the decision last month and is now consulting on the issue.

People will still be allowed to drink in the areas, with police becoming involved only if alcohol is giving rise to anti-social or intimidating behaviour.

The new controls come as city police declared last month's campaign to reduce alcohol related violence a big success.

Thames Valley Police and Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust joined forces with the city's Community Safety Partnership to tackle the problem over the festive period.

Serious assaults fell dramatically during the Operation Deny campaign and police reported incidents down by almost a quarter.

Detections for these crimes which resulted in an offender being charged or cautioned more than doubled in December compared to the same period in 2006.

Christmas cheer: Police give a drunken reveller first aid while awaiting an ambulance during Operation Deny

The detection rate for serious assaults was more than 48 per cent.

Milton Keynes saw the lowest number of offences compared to other areas of the Thames Valley and the greatest reduction, as well as the highest detection rate.

Police Commander Andy Taylor said: "I am extremely pleased with the results from the December campaign.

"This is the result of all the hard work and dedication of my officers and our colleagues in the Community Safety Partnership and is testament to the people of MK who just want to go out and have a peaceful and enjoyable time.

"Together with our partners we will continue to robustly tackle crime and disorder."

Licensed premises in the Newport Pagnell and Wolverton and Greenleys areas will be sent letters asking them what they think of the plans. The matter will go back to the regulatory committee on February 20.

Other areas already being controlled are central Milton Keynes, parts of Bletchley and Fenny Stratford, Oakgrove and Olney.

Careless parkers could cost lives

Drivers ignoring worn out lines outside fire station

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

Mick Carson with members of White Watch outside Bletchley Fire Station

CARELESS drivers parking on double yellow lines outside Bletchley fire station could cost lives.

Fire station manager Mick Carson has called on police for help because cars are ignoring double yellow lines and hazard markings on Sherwood Drive.

Mr Carson said: "Almost every day people are using the area in front of Bletchley Fire Station as a drop-off and pick-up point.

"They are a danger to us, to other road users, to themselves and to the people they are dropping off and picking up.

"It is essential that this area is kept clear at all times, both to allow our appliances to respond without delay to emergency calls and to allow our retained firefighters access to the station 24 hours a day."

The road markings have partially worn out, meaning restrictions cannot be enforced.

Cllr Liz Campbell is calling on Milton Keynes Council to act quickly in repainting the road.

She said: "If fire engines cannot exit the station speedily due to the parking of thoughtless drivers, then there will be delays in reaching fires and lives will be at risk.

"The council should prioritise repainting the markings and enforcing them as a matter of urgency."

She contacted the council last month but so far has only been told that they will look for a date when the work can be done.

The fire station is sandwiched between the rail station and police station, and opposite Bletchley College. This makes it a popular stopping-off point for drivers.

A council spokesman said: "We have added this work to our programme. Depending on good weather, we hope to carry out the work within the next two to three works."

Cllr Campbell said: "This is just not good enough.

"Do we need to see a serious injury before the council takes action?"

Big Issue seller wins city anti-litter prize

HOMELESS man Mark Johnson was one of three litter-conscious fast food diners rewarded at a presentation at the end of the council-run Stash your Trash fast food litter campaign.

Stash your Trash is one of the first schemes of its type in the UK and was run by Milton Keynes Council's Safer Communities Unit as an innovative way to highlight to the public the need to dispose of their takeaway food litter responsibly.

At a presentation last Tuesday at the counciloffices Mark, who sells the homeless magazine The Big Issue in Milton Keynes, was presented with gift vouchers for the city shopping centre.

The lucky winners were selected at random after they filled out their contact details on takeaway food wrappers and placed them in the designated yellow fast food litter bins located around the city during the two week campaign last month.

The Stash your Trash prize winners were:

- Heather Currie from Newport Pagnell and Mark Johnson won the two weekly prizes worth £90 each
- Sue Holl from Bradville won the main prize of £170 in vouchers.

This initiative is driven by the need to combat the problem of food litter, a magnet for vermin such as rats, that since 2001 has grown from four per cent to 24 per cent of the total of litter in our streets.

Rob Lawrence, council environmental quality manager, said: "We are using this campaign to make the public more aware of what it means if they just throw their takeaway containers on the streets. This year we will be looking to take a tough approach on those people who cannot be bothered either to take their rubbish home with them or make the effort to find a litter bin."

Last year Milton Keynes Council (MKC) spent more than £4m keeping the streets of the city clean and tidy.

Cllr Douglas McCall, cabinet member responsible for environment, said: "It is a real shame that we have to spend £4m when with a little care from everyone we could spend some of this money in other ways to improve services to benefit all the people of Milton Keynes."

Campaign sponsors included Midsummer Place, thecentre:MK, M&S, PrÍt a Manger and Kentucky Fried Chicken.

April D-date for schools' merger

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A REPORT on the West Bletchley schools review will go to cabinet tonight.

The recommendations are for Rivers Infant School to amalgamate with Rickley Junior School and for Wellsmead Infant School to amalgamate with Wellsmead Junior School.

It follows two, three month consultations that ran alongside each other.

The changes are necessary to tackle the problem of declining pupils in the area.

Parents initially lashed out over the proposals which involve using Rivers' good practice but the Rickley school site, and Wellsmead Infant School's ethos on the existing Wellsmead Junior School site.

But following the consultations involving parents, staff and governors, the majority of those that responded are in favour of the plans.

Ninety-one per cent of people answering the Wellsmead consultation believed the plan to build and extend the age range of Wellsmead Infant School, and close Wellsmead Junior School to provide a 210 place primary school and pre-school is appropriate.

Wellsmead Junior School: Set to welcome the infant school

Sixt-six per cent of those involved in the Rickley and Rivers School consultation agreed with the plan to extend the age range of Rivers Infant School and close Rickley Junior School to provide a 420 primary school with nursery provision.

The schools would operate from two sites initially, with all Wellsmead pupils moving to the Wellsmead Junior site by September 2009.

The Rivers Infant School pupils will move to the old Rickley site by September 2008.

It is thought that OFSTED reports have influenced the decision on which schools should close.

Final decisions will be made in April, following a statutory representation period.

Cllr Sandra Clark, council cabinet member with responsibility for schools, said: "I would like to say thank you to the staff, governors and parents of all of the schools for the way in which they have dealt with the review.

"The parental support shown to each of the schools reinforces my belief that the new schools will have the very best start."

An artist's impression of the new Coachway at junction 14 which is due in january next year

Campbell Park Coachway and car park plans go in

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

DETAILS of a temporary coach station designed to replace Milton Keynes Coachway are being finalised.

An application for planning permission was submitted yesterday for the facility to be erected at Campbell Park.

It will include 80 car parking spaces, with plenty of light and CCTV for the security of early morning and late night commuters. The temporary facility will operate in exactly the same way as the one at the Coachway currently does.

Eventually a state-of-the-art facility is to be built where the existing Coachway is at Brook Furlong on junction 14 of the M1.

The new building, due to be completed by January 2009, will be complemented by 'green' landscaping and a new access bridge for public transport.

Last April commuters were furious when the park-and-ride facility that they park in daily was closed, leaving reduced parking at the site. Currently they are parking in a car park at nearby Atterbury.

National Express is providing a shuttle service from the nearest bus stop, but this is a walk away.

Anant Vyas, who works for Camden Housing and Adult Social Care in London, said: "As and when we can we still park at the Coachway, but by 5 to 5.25am it's full.

"At Atterbury it is a reasonable walk from the car park to the bus stop but the lighting is poor so you worry for people on their own, especially women.

"It is not a nice area to walk at that time of the morning."

He says that the council promised they would be more open and accountable, but he has seen no improvement.

Chris Jarman, the council's passenger transport development manager, believes the work will take four weeks to complete.

The temporary facility will remain in place until the new site at junction 14 is complete.

The Prime Minister of New Zealand, Helen Clark, tries her hand on an Enigma machine while on a visit to Bletchley Park

Bletchley Park visit by holidaying PM

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE Prime Minister of New Zealand visited Milton Keynes last week while on holiday.

Helen Clark and her husband, Professor Peter Davis, dropped in at Bletchley Park on Thursday, during a private trip to the UK.

Bletchley Park Trust director, Simon Greenish, said: "We were enormously privileged to welcome the prime minister who clearly had a very special personal interest in Bletchley Park and great admiration for the work of the wartime codebreakers.

"It is gratifying that Bletchley Park Trust is attracting the international support of some of the most eminent and influential people in preserving this important heritage site for future generations."

The Right Honourable Mrs Clark admired exhibitions including the Bombe rebuilds and the newly completed Colossus.

Just hours later she took inspiration from the codebreaking machine to pay tribute to the late Sir Edmund Hillary on her return to New Zealand.

She said of the famous explorer: "Sir Ed described himself as an average New Zealander with modest abilities – in reality he was a colossus."

Hospice is looking for volunteers

COULD you offer support to families who are suffering a bereavement?

The Willen Hospice Macmillan Family Support Service is calling for volunteers to help provide both pre and post bereavement support to families where there are children and young people affected by the illness of a patient.

Potential volunteers need to be able to communicate easily and spare up to ten hours per month.

The hospice is looking for any volunteers over the age of eighteen but regret that they cannot consider applicants who have had a significant loss in the past year.

There are three information sessions being held at the hospice, in Willen Village, Milton Keynes, on Tuesday, January 29 from 10.30am until noon and 7pm until 8.30pm and Thursday, January 31 from 3pm until 4.30pm.

These sessions will be followed by an eight week training course held on Tuesday evenings from 7-9pm, starting on February 5.

For more information please call on 01908 663636.

City MPs fight changes to OU fees and funding

BY ALICIA BABAEE

alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

CITY MP Mark Lancaster's latest mission is to fight on behalf of the Open University after a slash in its funding.

Following a defeat in Parliament last week for his motion condemning the Government cuts, he vowed to continue fighting and has tackled both the Prime Minster and the Secretary of State.

The Government wants to cut funding for the majority of students in England and Northern Ireland taking a second qualifications at an equivalent or lower level than their first.

The Open University has called for a delay in the proposed changes, which could leave it £30million out of pocket.

The Early Day Motion called on the Government to consider ways in which it can minimise the damage that would result from the funding cut.

It was seconded by Phyllis Starkey, MP for Milton Keynes South West and was signed by 211 MPs, more than any current Early Day Motion.

An online Downing Street petition has also be signed by 17,500 people

At Prime Minister's questions recently Mr Lancaster said: "Only yesterday, the Prime Minister said that he wanted to do more to help the Open University, yet last night the Government voted effectively to cut its budget.

"How exactly does his decision to stop people studying for second degrees square with his supposed commitment to lifelong learning?"

Mr Lancaster then continued the attack by raising concerns again when he followed up by quizzing Higher Education Minister Bill Rammell.

Returning to Milton Keynes after his week in Westminster Mr Lancaster said: "It's been a frustrating week but I am determined to fight on.

"Ministers keep ridiculing the Open University's assessment of the impact of these cuts but seem unable to come up with any figures of their own which just shows what an ill conceived, badly thought through, dogs dinner of a breakfast this policy is."

Mr Lancaster will be retabling his Early Day Motion again this week.

The OU says suspending the decision would bring the proposed change in line with the timing of a planned review of university fees and funding in 2009.

Local Labour MP Phyllis Starkey said: "The Government has shown its commitment by increasing the premium paid for part-time students, but the new proposals must be modified to support those retraining in IT, to meet the particular needs of women returners, and to recognise the huge culture change that will be required if employers are to contribute more to the retraining of their employees.

"I urge the Government now to recognise these concerns and guarantee the future funding of the OU."

Waterway link land secured

A SECTION of the waterway planned between Milton Keynes and Bedford has been safeguarded by a local council.

Mid Bedfordshire District Council has included the preferred route for the Bedford to Milton Keynes Waterway in their latest land use plans, called the Local Development Framework.

This safeguards the route for the future preventing planning applications for new development from threatening the future of the proposal.

The waterway has already been included in both the Milton Keynes Plans and East of England Plans.

The Bedford to Milton Keynes Waterway Trust has been aiming to build a 20-mile waterway linking the Grand Union Canal to the River Great Ouse in Bedford since it was formed in 1994.

The first section, in Milton Keynes, has been granted planning permission but failed to win a Big Lottery Bid for £25million in November.

The intention is for the Milton Keynes Waterway section to run from the Grand Union Canal for 6.5km, via Willen Lake, through Broughton Brook Linear Park into the eastern expansion area and up to the Bedfordshire border.

Young artists' shining pieces

BUG lanterns made from paper and sculptures made from rubbish will be just some of the creations on display at Peartree Bridge.

The imaginative artworks have been conjured up by the city's youngsters during free workshops with the theme 'shine'.

When light is shone from behind the designs, fascinating images are created. nother display is of planets made from shiny materials.

Five artists have been working with the youngsters at workshops at Interaction MK Workshops in Tinkers Bridge, Coffee Hall and Peartree Bridge.

Sharon Paulger, Inter-Action MK's director, said: "It's always very exciting working with new and diverse artists and this project, working across local communities, really allows the young people to be creative and imaginative.

"The collaboration with Artworks MK on this project really enables us to provide more opportunities to a wider community than before.

"We are looking forward to sharing the work with members of the public between 5 and 7pm on Saturday, January 26. Everyone is welcome and it's free to come along."

They will be exhibited at The Old Rectory, Waterside, on January 26.

School in march to specialist science status

HAZELEY School has moved one step closer to achieving its goal to become a specialist science college.

The school needs to raise £50,000 in order to obtain science status – it has so far managed to reach £32,000.

As well as parents and pupils taking part in money spinning events, the school has also received donations from local organisations and companies.

"We are fortunate to have some very dedicated students and supportive parents who have clubbed together and organised events to raise this money in the space of just nine months," said headteacher Iain Denning. "We are obviously also grateful for the fabulous donations from local organisations."

Mr Denning believes achieving science specialism will bring enormous benefits not only to pupils but to the city as a whole. Science and maths are both key skills needed for the economic well being of Milton Keynes."

The fundraising efforts of the school have included a school fete which brought in £5,000, mufti days, discos, a teacher's sponsored mountain climb, and more recently an auction of promises

The school has until March to submit itsspecialism bid .

Who will deal with your affairs and welfare if you can't? Don't lose your right to choose your Attorney by waiting until its too late.

From the 1st October 2007 the Enduring Power of Attorney (EPA) has been replaced with a revised type of power called a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA). However, EPAs made prior to 1st October will continue to be valid.

The LPA has now replaced the EPA as one of the most important legal protection mechanisms for your future. Indeed having an LPA in place is just as important as making a Will because it affects you during your lifetime. The benefit of the LPA is that it will allow you and your family the certainty of knowing who will deal with your affairs and personal welfare if you become incapable of making decisions about these things yourself. Moreover, you will have the comfort of knowing that the Attorney dealing with your affairs is the person of your choice and not someone whom the Court chooses to appoint on your behalf.

Unlike the EPA, an LPA will need to be registered with the Court of Protection before it may be used by your attorney (s). A person can make two types of LPA.

A Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your property and financial affairs.

You can appoint a property and affairs Attorney to manage your finances and property whilst you still have capacity as well as when you lack capacity. For example, it may be easier for you to give someone the power to carry out tasks such as paying your bills if you find it difficult to get about. Please note that the document has to be registered before it can be used.

A personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your personal healthcare and welfare.

As you can see the protection offered by an LPA can be invaluable. Please contact us today to see how we can help.

Flights of fancy from young bird writers

CHILDREN'S love of birds came to the fore in a recent writing competition.

As part of Milton Keynes City Orchestra's education and outreach programme, the competition enjoyed a huge response.

The nine prize winners were invited with their families to a celebration party on Friday at sponsors Borders of Milton Keynes.

The children received their prizes from Luke Ashmead, BBC Three Counties presenter and heard their winning entries read out by local storyteller Yaw Asiyama.

Each winner received a £25 voucher from Borders book shop and a pair of tickets from Milton Keynes City Orchestra to attend The Birds Family Concert on Sunday, February 17.

The concert will feature readings of the winning entries by Yaw, in addition to ongoing community projects to make unique music compositions for the concert, with help from trained music animateurs and Orchestra musicians, supported by a grant from Awards for All.

The winners of the writing competition came from five community areas of Milton Keynes with a separate category for Milton Keynes generally, providing an opportunity for any child to enter.

The winners were Karen Li, Kirsten-lea Fairhurst, Shelby Fuller, Owen Noctor, Yasmina Bugel, Chloe Fussell, Joseph Vogliqi, Krishan Badiani and Joshua Rose Jackie Allen, Milton Keynes City Orchestra Education and Outreach officer said: "We are delighted with the overwhelming response to this first stage of The Birds concert community project.

Write stuff: Winners of the Milton Keynes City Orchestra writing competition pick up their prizes at borders book shop

Yaw provided marvellous entertainment at the winners' party, reading out the entries and encouraging the children to participate in his popular story telling.

"The inspiringcontent of the entries is proof that our children are using their imagination and were inspired by the birds theme, from the cute robin to the powerful mythical Phoenix.

We are indebted to Borders of Milton Keynes for their sponsorship, who together with Awards for All have provided a large section of the funding to enable the community projects supporting this concert to take place."

Tickets for the concert are available direct from Milton Keynes City Orchestra 01908 558311.

A first trip down the slippery slope

This weekend The Rip Curl Girls Tour was at the SNO!zone in Milton Keynes teaching girls how to pull off freestyle snowboard and freeski tricks on the slopes. As a beginner, MK NEWS reporter LAURA HANNAM went along to try it out and see what gives the sport such a cool reputation

On the piste: Laura (far left and above) gets instructions during the Ripcurl snowboarding course at SNO!zone

TRAVELLING across Europe, the Rip Curl Girls Tour both aims to get girls hooked to a fairly male dominated sport and to give those with a bit more experience the chance to take their boarding or skiing skills to another level.

I was definitely not one of the latter, having only tried snowboarding a couple of times on a dry slope.

For beginners, the tour aimed to make their first experience of the sport affordable offering 45 minute sessions for only £10.

Equipment including a board, boots and helmet were also supplied.

I and three other novices began our snowboarding lesson at the top of the nursery slope.

Our instructor began by explaining the basics such as what position your body should be in, how to get your board on and off and - usefully - how to fall over safely and avoid the most common snowboarding injury, a broken wrist.

Once we had our boards attached the first challenge was to get ourselves facing up the slope for our first exercise.

In order to do this we had to ungracefully flip the board and our bodies over, which was easier said than done as you suddenly realised the weightiness of the equipment.

This tackled we were ready for our first trip down the slope.

Our instructor taught us how to get the board moving and most importantly how to stop and, advised us on our body posture.

Initially I was very uncomfortable as I was putting lots of pressure on my ankles by bending forwards, which felt much safer than standing at full height.

Once the instructor had pointed this out and asked me to push my stomach forward it became much easier and I began to concentrate on controlling my speed.

After a few goes down the slope we started on cornering. We were taught to cross down the slope in zig zags leaning our weight in the direction we wanted to go.

As I began to get the hang of this I could see how this sport would become addictive.

As my confidence grew I built up speed and was really enjoying the adrenaline rush - even if the trip usually ended with me chucking myself down as I was heading towards the ski lift or another beginner.

The first time I managed to corner without flopping onto my front I felt a huge sense of achievement.

By the end of the beginners lesson I had a good idea how to control my board and was eager to get back to the SNO!zone and have another go.

Perhaps next year I will be good enough to take part in the tour's two-hour freestyle lessons (£25 per person), when girls are taught to get to grips with tricks over rails, boxes and kickers and given tips on style and technique.

And once you have honed your skills you can take part in a three-trick-contest held on the second day.

This year a Rip Curl snowboard and Mountainwear were up for grabs for the snowboard and ski winners respectively.

After a hard day on the slope, we were given a free goodie bag and entertained with an after event party on the Saturday night, featuring a performance from four-piece rock band Skirtbox who have toured with The Ataris and Fabulous Disaster.

Since opening back in June 2007 The Kitchen Outlet Store in Fenny Stratford has helped 100's of customers transform their kitchen

We caught up with the owners Rod & Lee to find out how they are fast becoming the number one choice for kitchens in the area.

"First of all we make it as easy as possible for our customers. They can start by bringing their measurement into the showroom or we can pop round to measure for them. We then create a 3D photo real image of the kitchen using our award winning software to make the design come to life".

You are not left hanging around at The Kitchen Outlet Store. Rod explained "We often get feedback from customers stating that competitors are taking weeks to get plans and quotes drawn up for them. Our aim is to make sure we respond within 48 hours" Lee added "We have to be quick, as we continually negotiate with all of our manufacturers to get the best price possible for our customers. Often these deals are on a limited time or stock basis. We really have proven to 100's of satisfied customers that paying less for your kitchen does not mean you get less. We do not compromise on quality in any way. In fact we offer up to 15 years guarantee on our kitchen units, that, how confident we are!"

Rod & Lee would like to thank all past customers for their business and also look forward to helping future customers with their kitchen requirements.

MUSIC REVIEWS

BEAUTIFUL BURNOUT
Underworld

EVER wondered where it all went wrong for Underworld? I know I haven't.

One minute they were turning out stuff like Born Slippy and Pearl's Girl and reaching the Top 20 as a matter of routine, but nowadays they can't buy a hit.

It's a sad tale, really, even more so when you consider how good this is.

It's one of those weird songs that you either dance away to or chill out to, and although there are lyrics, they're pretty minimal (and, as is the way with Underworld, sound like loads of random words stuck together), so they don't get in the way of things. Unfortunately, just as Crocodile tanked in the charts, I can't see the masses rushing out to buy this one either, which is annoying because like Crocodile, it's one of their better efforts.

JIGSAW FALLING INTO PLACE
radiohead

Radiohead give away their new album on the Internet in October, and in January the physical versions of In Rainbows go straight to Number One on the album chart.

What does that all mean? I dunno, but I bet the major record labels are scratching their heads and wondering how on Earth it happened. They can hardly argue that downloading is killing CD sales now, can they?

Now then, I was going to describe this as a traditional Radiohead song, but quite frankly this lot have changed direction so many times and tried so many different things that there's really no such thing.

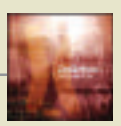
It's a traditional song structure, though – verse, chorus, verse, that sort of thing with guitars, drums and Thom Yorke starting off fairly subdued and then building himself up. It's not the best song from In Rainbows, but if this isn't the best song that goes to show how good the album actually is, doesn't it?

SOMETHING GOOD 2008
Utah Saints

SEEING as the Utah Saints were creating dance tracks from the most unlikely source material way before the likes of Eric Prydz and Uniting Nations, I suppose it's only right that they themselves be subjected to having their songs updated.

Way back in 1992, Something Good was huge. It was a bonkers tune that sampled Kate Bush's Cloudbusting – specifically the part where she sings 'I just know that something good is going to happen'.

The original version has stood up to the test of time pretty well. And therein lies the problem. If the original has aged so well, does it really need updating? Yes, it's recognisably the same song and yes, it's been updated, but this version isn't half as much fun as the original, in fact it's lost most of its personality and turned into just another dance track. Somebody's missed a trick here, I'm afraid.



SAW SOMETHING / DEEPER AND DEEPER
Dave Gahan

WELL, Kingdom didn't do very well, so this time round Dave Gahan's bringing out a double-barrelled single. Saw Something is a bit gloomy and plodding, truth be told. Oddly enough, the guitar solo in the middle doesn't really help the proceedings, and really that's all I need to say about it. Deeper And Deeper is the complete opposite, it's full of life, goes utterly off its trolley right from the start and sounds like Dave's having a great time.

CHRISTMAS COMEDOWN

Renounce your resolutions and retox at Revolution

THIS weekend it's time to ditch that post-Christmas detox and start to retox.

The Beatcheck Christmas Comedown will take place on Friday at Revolution.

Revellers are encouraged to renounce their resolutions and get back into the partying spirit aided by human beatboxers, MCs and underground dance music.

As part of the night, MC Xander, who has played the biggest festivals and venues around the world, will perform a live beatbox set.

Alongside him will be Northampton-based female DJ Little Jo, Dom Almond who has been lighting up the Beatcheck dance floors for over a year, and Anya with MC Special A.

Promoter Jason Charles said: "January in Milton Keynes is a dark place. Men veg on their sofas dreaming of the gym and drooling over footballers' wives on the WAGs Workout DVD they hopefully bought their girlfriends to stem the post Christmas spread.

"Their girlfriends just spend their time complaining of how much weight they put on over Christmas while scoffing down kilos of left-over chocolate.

"That's why we decided that instead of pretending that we are being good and healthy, we will stop lying to ourselves, and just get deep down and dirty on the dance floor."

Entry is £2.

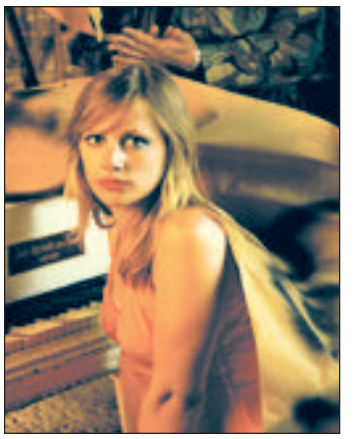
STANTONBURY THEATRE



MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING
Red Shift Theatre Company. Adapted and directed by Jonathan Holloway
Monday, January 21
RED Shift relocates the story of one of Shakespeare's best loved comedies to 1991 Yugoslavia in the moral vacuum the after the Kosovo War and a palpable atmosphere of suspicion and casual violence hangs in the air.
Teeming with testosterone fuelled youths, fumbling clowns and serious men of 'business', this production also emphasises the raw meat of a text infused with humiliation, revenge and brutality. Two brothers, rival warlords, reach a fragile peace after a brutal and bloody war. Smiling faces mask bitter tensions and nothing is sacred in a world full of suspicion and malice. Two loving relationships splutter into life – one mature, cynical and guarded, the other youthful and impetuous.
In this atmosphere of conflict and violence the romantic lead is revealed as feckless, the doting father betrays his child, the noble leader is reduced to a seedy seducer, and it is left up to Dogberry and his team of police-clowns to rescue simple virtue.
Expect an evening of inventive and challenging theatre, unexpected shocks and laughter, respect for the text and outrageous liberties in equal measure.
This is an exciting ensemble entertainment that works for Shakespeare enthusiasts and newcomers alike. An entertaining fast paced 90 minutes that will leave you breathless and exhilarated.
Tickets £10.50/£8.50 on 324422

Edmund Verney, Charles I's standard bearer, died at the battle of Edgehill. His son, Ralph, the oldest of ten children, supported the Parliamentarian cause but was eventually hounded into exile for alleged Royalist connections. One of his sisters became pregnant out of wedlock and a second ran off with a clergyman. His brother Henry was obsessed with horse-racing while Cary gambled away a fortune. TRAVELLIFE

Elk on Beaver Meadow in Estes Park, Colorado

It's well worthwhile going west

TAKING a trip to the west side, for many, is shopping in Westcroft but a trip to the wild west side is an entirely different affair and starts with what seems an everlasting flight.

Ending up in Denver, the state capital of Colorado makes the trip worthwhile.

This remarkable city has all the vibrancy you would expect, the traffic nightmares, the uptown night-life and the down town poverty, and still holds the title of the fourth 'most walkable city' in America, the first being Washington.

Home of the Denver Broncos and Nuggetts as well as the Colorado Avalanche it is sports mad and has built the stadia to match, with the magnificent Pepsi Center and Invesco Field at Mile High both of which pay homage to their sports. To see either would be worth the airmiles.

Denver, however, was not my final destination, I was staying in Fort Collins – a town with many similarities to Milton Keynes.

It is 50 miles north of the capital and built on a grid road system. Also, like MK, Fort Collins is just a stones throw from the main interstate (i25), has a railway that runs right through it, the roads are flanked by cycleways and building work has a constant presence.

The population of 160,000 makes it a little smaller than Milton Keynes but being voted, by CNN, America's best city to live in 2006 it's got the same can-do attitude that we possess.

But that's where the similarities end.

Somehow this new town has managed to keep its walls free from graffiti, its streets free from litter and its parks clear of dog poo.

Oh, and it also has the most stunning views of the Rocky Mountains to the west, which emerge from the flatlands that stretch as far as Kansas to the east.

I have travelled across the Alps on many occasions but the Rockies have a totally different feel about them, they are wild and intimidating and hold the magic of all those westerns watched in my youth.

Old Town in Fort Collins

The Lincoln Memorial

Park Ranger Steve Gucker

The town names alone conjure images of John Wayne riding flat out with gunss in hand.

My adventure gave me the chance to watch elk roam on Beaver Meadow, stand next to the frozen Bear Lake, follow Big Thompson River from Loveland to Estes Park and wait as the bighorn mountain sheep crossed our path.

The wild winter weather had closed the i70 over the mountains because of snow but park rangers, the likes that you could find in any episode of Yogi Bear, were happy to invite you into one of the most beautiful yet frightning places on earth – the horror movie The Shining was filmed there.

The rugged mountains play host to a changing countryside from quiet hidden valleys to wind-torn craggy outcrops, all smothered in history that spans the Native Americans to the cowboys and settlers who took the land just over a century ago.

Perhaps the most stunning trip I made was along part of the i80 that runs from the east to west coast along the Mormon Trail in Wyoming and crosses the Rockies with the Lincoln Memorial at its highest point.

Travelling from Cheyenne, a mess of a town which has replaced wagon trains with two mile long freight trains at the enormous Union Pacific depot, past Laramie, Medicine Bow to Rock Springs you realise the hardiness of the native Americans that chose to follow the buffalo into the mountains and how 3,000 Mormons lost their lives in a winter camp as they fled persecution in search of what was to become Salt Lake City.

The gold rush of the 1850s meant that fur trappers were replaced by miners –to this day working family claims litter the hillsides while buffalo graze nearby.

This is the west at its wildest where every inch of land offers excitement and every season brings a changing landscape, that's why I can't wait for my next trip.

New superstore home for expanding estate agent

WHILE some estate agents are feeling the pressure Taylors is expanding.

Taylors has two new offices opening this month.

Both Taylors Residential Lettings and Taylors Westcroft are to become a part of the Countrywide Group's most successful region.

The Residential Lettings department opened at the start of this month in the well-established Milton Keynes branch situated just off Midsummer Boulevard.

This is the largest estate agency branch in the UK and at 4.500sq ft it really is ideal for those clients who are looking to either rent or buy.

"The idea of opening on the west of Milton Keynes in the Westcroft District Centre makes a lot of sense, but to get the opportunity of selling houses in MK from the busy Morrisons superstore really excites the team." said regional manager Matthew Giggs.

"We already enjoy a real working relationship with Morrisons in Cardiff and the success simply encouraged Taylors in Milton Keynes to expand and invest in a worthwhile location actually benefiting a seller in the local area."

The new letting department will focus on purely tenant introductions, rent collection and property management with the support of an experienced sales team which literally concentrates on just securing the right tenants for the landlord.

Landlords and tenants will benefit from a tried and tested 'back office' service with more than 100 years experience in lettings and property management.

Taylors' lettings team: Rob Prichard, Paul Bushby (manager) and Sharon Bushby

Ground works firm looking to increase staff on back of a bumper order book

INNOVATIVE ground engineering company Pennine is again expanding its Milton Keynes workforce following the most successful quarter ever for its South East operation.

The regional office in Boycott Avenue, Milton Keynes won 16 contracts worth a total £850,000 between September and November in 2007.

This compares to £500,000 for the same period in 2006 and breaks all records for Pennine since the Milton Keynes base was set up in 1999.

The team of two estimators, a contracts engineer and a receptionist was strengthened in October with the appointment of a third estimator, geological sciences graduate Vicky Payne.

But the spiralling workload and bumper forward order book means the company is now also recruiting for a business development engineer and an area manager for the regional office.

Geotechnical engineer, David Roy said: "It's been a very busy and profitable quarter.

"The Milton Keynes team has inserted more than 35,000 linear metres of stone and concrete columns using our specialist plant – much of which we design and adapt to meet the needs of specific projects.

"The team is to be congratulated on its excellent performance, which continues to underline our ability to make cost and efficiency savings for clients through the use of bespoke solutions."

Recent contract wins through the Milton Keynes office include:

- A £180,000 contract to insert 6,000 top feed vibro stone columns for Marbank Construction at the site of a proposed distribution unit in Harlow.
- A £82,000 contract to insert vibro stone columns at the Broughton Gate housing development in Milton Keynes, for contractor M V Kelly and main developer Carla Homes.

Coldzzz and flu

AN estimated 242 million working hours will be lost this winter due to 'desk dozing' employees who are suffering from cold and flu symptoms, a study has revealed.

The research from Lemsip Max Day and Night Cold and Flu Relief Capsules has found that almost 31 per cent of workers in Milton Keynes admit to trying to look busy when full of cold at work but not really getting any work done.

Almost one in four (23 per cent) spend at least the first two hours of the working day doing very little and more than one in 10 (13 per cent) take an extra half hour checking e-mails.

Hourly trips to the canteen to make cups of tea or coffee is a necessary pick me up for more than one in five (22 per cent) of workers, and of those that do make an attempt to work 41 per cent find they can"t concentrate on the job in hand.

Popular 'desk dozer' pastimes include day-dreaming (40 per cent), almost one in ten (eight per cent) surf the Internet to try and get refocused and seven per cent find themselves taking refuge in the toilets for a quarter of an hour at a time.

Hats off, however to those workers who arrive on time, albeit in a daze, as the research found one in five employees (20 per cent) admit to being anything up to an hour late for work often sleeping in when they have a cold and a quarter sleep through their alarm (25 per cent).

Senior brand manager Vishal Kalia said: "You've got to admire people who struggle into work when they have got a cold – it can be really rough.

"And as our research shows, trying to be alert and fully functioning can be particularly hard if you've not managed to get a good night's sleep thanks to your symptoms.

"Cold and flu sufferers who battle in to work often take over the counter remedies with sedatives to help ease their symptoms at night in the hope they can get a good night's sleep in preparation for the day ahead.

"However, they can often wake in the morning still feeling groggy. Getting up and getting going seems to take a lot longer and every day tasks become a chore as people feel drained and lacking energy."

Outgoing, persuasive, chatty, organized, fun, talkative, confident, positive, self motivated…..

……these are the kinds of words used to describe our Advertising Sales team here at the MKNEWS (although other words are sometimes used!). If you're outgoing, persuasive and fancy working in a busy but fun media environment this may be the perfect role for you!

Office based
Advertising Sales Advisors

The MK News is part of Iliffe News and Media Ltd and is one of the UK's fastest growing regional newspapers. Having recently moved to new offices next to Willen lake in Milton Keynes we're now looking to recruit two additional Sales Advisors to join our current busy team selling advertising solutions to local businesses.
Sales experience is not necessary (although is always helpful), but a confident and persuasive personality coupled with excellent customer service and administration skills are very important.
These two roles are predominantly office based, and would involve talking to existing and new customers about their marketing and advertising needs both on the telephone and face to face, therefore the ability to cold call is essential..
Candidates need to have an excellent telephone manner and be happy working within small teams and working to deadlines

We offer….
- £12,000 - £15,000 per year basic (dependant on skills and experience)
- Realistic and achievable bonus of £5,000 - £6,000 per year
- 25 days holiday per year
- Regular training and career development
- Contributory Pension and Healthcare after qualifying period

For an informal chat and an application pack please call Hazel Basford, Classified Sales Manager on 01908 242490. Please call during office hours. Alternatively, email your c.v. with a covering letter to hazel.basford@mk-news.co.uk

As a member of Iliffe News & Media we also publish weekly newspapers and websites across Herts, Beds, Bucks, Cambs, Essex and the Midlands.

GENERAL
1. The publisher reserves the right to omit or suspend any advertisement even though accepted and paid for and to make any alterations necessary to maintain standards of the newspaper. The publisher also declines responsibility for the omission of a single advertisement or one or more of a series of advertisements from any cause whatsoever, nor do they accept liability for any loss or damage caused by an error or inaccuracy in the printing of an advertisement. (Advertisers are advised to check their advertisement after the insertion). No re-insertions refund or adjustment will be made where an error, mis-print or omission does not materially detract from the advertisement. The Publisher may at its sole discretion re-insert the whole or part of the advertisement with corrections or refund part or the whole value of the advertisement.
2. The publisher reserves the right to decline any advertisement without giving an explanation or which they deem the content unsuitable for publication, whether an order has been accepted or not. The publisher will not accept orders for advertisements which it deems offensive or defamatory or which infringe the Trades Description Act 1968 and The British Code of Advertising Standards Authority on such matters.
3. An order for advertising services placed by an advertiser or an advertising agency on behalf of an advertiser constitutes an assurance that necessary authorisation or permission has been granted in respect of the use of the advertisement itself, pictorial representation of a living person, references made and words attributed to a living person and text which may be the subject of copyright protection.
4. Printed conditions on advertisement orders will not be recognised as binding unless expressly accepted in writing by the publishers.
5. Advertising rates involving a series, volume or prepayment discount are expressly for the use of the advertiser concerned and are not to divulged to a third party.
6. All artwork designed by the LSN Studio remains the property of LSN Media. Where artwork services are provided, it is on the understanding that it is for the sole use in any of the LSN Media publications unless prior agreement is sought, any unauthorised reproduction will result in a charge being levied on the publisher concerned.
7. Proofs of advertisements are provided upon request but cannot be guaranteed. Where a proof is supplied, the onus is on the recipient to check that all information is correct and to provide the publisher with any neccesary alterations or amendments before the expiration of the deadline. The publisher will not accept responsibility for errors in any advertisement where a proof is supplied and subsequently authorised for publication.
8. Although every effort will be made to meet advertisers requirements, specified positions cannot be guaranteed within the newspaper.
9. All advertisements which carry a premium telephone number must comply with the Code of Practice of The Independent Committee for the supervision of Standards of Telephone Information Services (CSTIS).
10. The advertiser (or his advertising agency) shall indemnify the publisher in respect of all costs, damages or any other charges as the result of legal action or the threat of legal action arising from the publisher of a single advertisement for a series of advertisements, published in accordance with copy instructions supplied to the publisher in pursuance of the advertiser or his advertising agency's order.
11. If an advertisement does not appear due to copy or artwork being supplied after the agreed deadline, the space will be payable in full at the published rates.
12. A request to insert an advertisement assumes acceptance of our Terms & Conditions of Advertising.

DISTRIBUTION
1. Unless otherwise stated, distribution will normally take place within the specified publication to the individual addresses which usually receive the publication within the area and on the date scheduled. This does not necessarily imply 100% delivery to all addresses within the area.
2. The publisher shall not be liable for total or partial non delivery of any publication in which an advertisement is scheduled to appear and no reinsertion, refund or adjustment will be made to the advertiser.

BOX NUMBERS
While every endeavour will be made to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser as soon as possible, no liability will be accepted by the publisher in respect of any loss, damage or delay in forwarding such replies.

CANCELLATION
1. Cancellation of advertisements must be advised 24 hours prior to the booking deadline. If the publisher is unable to resell the space he reserves the right to charge for any loss of revenue incurred.

3. Queries concerning cancelled advertisements must be accompanied by the stop number given at the time of cancellation.

PAYMENT

WREXHAM
League Two
Saturday, January 19. KO 3pm
Racecourse Ground

WREXHAM are deep in relegation trouble, stuck at the bottom of the table and six points from safety. In comparison the Dons are flying high, eight points clear at the top and unbeaten on the road since September, 1.

The league table and form guide would have this down as a no brainer, but both sides will know that every dog has its day.

The Reds are currently stuck in a run of seven games without a win, the last time they picked up three points was against Bury at the start of December, but not even that 1-0 victory could inspire a run of results.

The Dons will clearly walk into the clash with more confidence, especially when they look back in the history books.

In their four previous meetings the Welsh side have never beaten MK, in fact from a possible 12 points they have only taken one from the Dons.

Wrexham's star midfielder Mark Jones will watch from the sidelines as he nurses a torn hamstring.

The injury news is slightly better for the Dons with Aaron Wilbraham regaining match fitness following his substitute appearance against Barnet and Keith Andrews completing ninety minutes following a thigh strain. The Dons will be hoping Danny Swailes shakes off his injury that has kept him out of their previous two matches.

MK Dons will play the second-leg of their Johnstone's Paint area final against Swansea at home.

The Dons will travel to Swansea for the first leg on Tuesday, February 19, kick-off at 7pm. The return date will be live on Sky on Monday, February 25. Kick-off is at 7.45pm.

SKY Sports will screen the Dons' away clash against Chesterfield.

The fixture was due to be played on Wednesday, March 12 but has instead been changed to Monday, March 10, with kick-off at 7.45pm to accommodate the Sky cameras.

DUE to the Chesterfield game being brought forward the Dons have moved their away match at Grimsby Town back a day.

Friday, March 7 is the new date for the fixture, and it will kick-off at 7.45pm.

PETERBOROUGH United will also visit stadiummk a day earlier than originally scheduled.

The Dons will now host Posh on Good Friday, March 21, with kick-off at 7.45pm.

MK Dons had their reserve fixture against Grays Athletic postponed.

The Pontins Holidays Combination match was due to be played on Monday night, the two sides have yet to rearrange an alternative date.

Better Bees best 'route-one' Dons

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

A BAD day at the office would be the perfect way to summarise MK Dons' performance in their shock defeat to Barnet.

In recent weeks the Dons have not played their best football but have still managed to grind out the results to take them 11 points clear at the top.

That lead was cut to eight at the weekend as an organised Barnet outfit did what only five teams have managed this season, take three-points from the Dons.

One-nil had been a winning score line four games in a row but this time Paul Ince's men found themselves on the wrong end of the narrow result.

It was an unfamiliar performance from the Dons, they looked far from league leaders instead they appeared distinctively average. Whereas Barnet were neat, organised and determined to walk away from stadiummk with a performance to make their travelling support proud.

After sending a few shots wide and at Dons keeper Willy Gueret the Bees managed to break the deadlock on the 22nd minute.

Skipper Ismail Yakubu took advantage of a static defence, running onto the end of ex-Dons Jason Puncheon's delivery to stab the ball beyond Gueret at the far post.

Suspicions of offside were raised by the home side, inflamed by assistant referee Amy Rayner's decision to momentarily lift the flag.

Dons' number two Ray Mathias was one of many who thought Yakubu's goal was offside.

"I thought it was when it first happened," he said, "I think she (Rayner) was giving it for something else which you've got to accept if she says that."

Despite the protests the goal stood and it was a lead the Bees thoroughly deserved after having the better chances.

In fact the Dons' shots on target were extremely limited with Keith Andrews having the pick when he sent a long range strike wide of the left post.

But they were made to pay for their drab first-half as the Bees tightened up their back line and with five in midfield they blocked the way through, so much so the Dons were forced to revert to last years style.

The long ball approach is not the Ince way but with no other route it had to be taken, explained Mathais: "There was a lot wrong with our game, we managed to get back into it a little bit in a way we don't want to go – which is route-one football. But sometimes you've got to do something out of the ordinary to get back into the game."

Andrews was again the man with the best opportunities to get the Dons on level terms, but he sent header from Luke Howell's cross inches wide before nodding Drissa Diallo's cross into the side of the net.

While Mathias believed a draw would have been a fair result, fans would have walked away knowing the Bees were the better team and rightly handed the Dons their fourth home defeat.

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

HAVING spoken to certain players over the weekend before I even knew the result, I could tell that there was dejection and disappointment in there voices.

I'm no rocket scientist but it was quite obvious that we didn't get the result or the performance we were looking for.

As I've said before, you can't play well all the time and if more of the players are having an off day then results like that happen.

I have to say though, there has been a tremendous amount of football played over the last couple of months and it does tend to catch up on even the best of teams. When I saw the result come through on the news, what really cheered me up was what followed the score line. Saturday was only our fifth defeat of the league season and, in any team's book, that is a fantastic record. It really gives you an insight to how good we have performed so far.

At the moment for me, doctor's orders are to have a couple of days' rest and let me tell you, I'm already going stir crazy! Life with the boys, manager and club is infectious this year and I can't wait to get back in.

What I do know is after every set back this year, training and the following matches has been very sharp and competitive making sure the next result is the right one. Every game that doesn't go our way just seems to fuel the fire to achieve something this year that can only serve to help us.

So bring on Wrexham as the boys will have their eyes firmly fixed on the next team in our path.

It's well documented by now that I was back in hospital last weekend. Everything went to plan so I'm inching ever closer now to playing again. I just have to get use to those damn crutches again!

So I can safely say this week see you all there Saturday.

Let's really drive the boys on.

Nerveless New snatches BBL Cup for Lions

MK LIONS 69

(Smith 21, Bridge 19, Stewart 12)

TWO free throws in the final five seconds ensure MK Lions captured the first piece of silverware available this season.

Mike New, the British Basketball League's oldest player at 39, held his nerve in a dramatic end to the game to claim the Lions the BBL Cup.

It was far from easy for the Lions as they were forced to shake off a sloppy first quarter to regain the lead, at which point they never looked back.

Newcastle player-coach Fabulous Flouroy led the way by scoring in the second minute and while New was instant in his response, nailing a basket and a free-throw, the Eagles were on a roll.

Olu Babalola inspired an 11-0 burst before New and Windless pulled the Lions back and Peter Heizer narrowed the deficit to 9-13 as he netted at the buzzer.

The Lions fell further behind at the start of the second, but soon they started to rally and after trailing 20-12 they were leading by a single point on the back of three consecutive three-pointers.

The triple pointers were Lions' route through as they notched up six of them in the second quarter to lead 33-28 at the interval.

A series of scores from Kevin Griffin broke the game open in the third with a 11-3 tear in the Lions favour putting them in a steady position. But the Eagles continued to produces moments of magic in the final seconds to cut the lead to 12 points.

The battle between the sides continued throughout the final quarter, at one point it looked like Newcastle would mount an almighty come back and not one spectator in the packed out National Indoor Arena was prepared to sneak home early.

Charles Smith and Andrew Bridge were two Eagles players who were not prepared to lose without a fight. The former of the two netted a long range shot with five minutes remaining to take his side within three points.

Bridge then threw a spanner in the works when he scored, with a minute left on the clock, to narrow the deficit to 67-66.

The Lions scraped away, holding possession and desperately trying to keep the Eagles out. Clearly frustrated Newcastle shot themselves in the foot as they fouled the Lions and New gladly bagged the two free throws.

Lynard Stewart tried to force overtime but his shot, at the buzzer, fell short and gave the Lions their first piece of silverware.

Lightning back on track after penalty shoot-out win

THE race in the English Premier League is hotting up after MK Lightning grabbed a penalty shoot-out win over leaders Guildford Flames.

The victory put the Lions back on track following defeat to Bracknell Bees at the start of the weekend.

But having taken the game into overtime and penalties Lightning's hosts also earned themselves a point and are now six points clear at the top.

Toni Alasaarela emerged as the MK hero as he was the only player managing to sneak the puck into the net, after missing his first, while Mikko Skinnari and Gary Clarke also had their saved.

It was an important victory following defeat to second placed Bracknell the previous day.

Bees had a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period before Nick Poole grabbed Lightning's first three minutes into the second.

Poole then set up Adam Carr in a power play to make the score 2-2.

Greg Randell added Lightning's third on the 48th minute but that was sandwiched between two from Bracknell with Matt Foord hitting the winner two minutes from time.

■ Lightning take on the Bees at Bracknell tonight in the first-leg of the EPL Cup semi-final. On Saturday they are at Slough Jets with face-off at 6.30pm and on Sunday Lightning host Wightlink Raiders, face-off is at 6pm.

LOCAL RUGBY

MILTON Keynes progressed through to the next round of the Bucks Cup with a shock win over Olney.

The two sides are currently competing in the Southern Counties north league and while MK are holding their own in fourth place, Olney are flying high at the top.

But the league position stood for nothing as MK produced one of their best performances of the season to knock out the Olney side.

It was a closely fought game but when Olney flanker Tom Stanton was sinbinned for stamping MK took advantage of the extra man. A lineout five metres from the Olney line saw centre Tim Parkinson collect the ball and dive over for the first try of the evening.

Phil Powell added the kick and no further scores made it 7-0 to MK at the break.

The most impressive try came when Olney's fly half kicked from his own twenty-two, unfortunately for him MK's prop Kieran McConnell scooped the ball up and ran 45 metres, breaking three tackles to score in the corner to give MK a 12-0 lead.

Olney were able to stage some from of a fight back as Dean Henrickson drove over the line, but it was too late to stage a comeback.

It was sweet revenge for MK following their 22-3 defeat to Olney at the start of the season.

MVP Griffin nails Eagles as Lions lift the BBL Cup

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

DREAMS came true on Sunday as MK Lions beat Newcastle Eagles to the BBL Cup.

Especially in the case of Kevin Griffin who had a premonition he would be awarded the Most Valuable Player, which he was, in a significant match.

It was a fully deserved accolade as Griffin finished top-scorer with 24 points of the 69-66 score line to his name, and was intrumental in a sparkling third quarter display that proved vital in the win.

The shooting guard has been in fantastic form this season, but off the court he has suffered a more turbulent time.

Last year Griffin flew back to his native United States to be at his fathers bedside as he underwent a life saving operation.

"I feel numb," explained Griffin after the final, "because back in November I travelled back to the States to be with my dad during heart surgery. The first night I was in the hospital I had a dream that I got MVP at a game.

"My name may be attached to the cup as MVP but it's not for me, this is for the team, that's why I wanted my team mates to come up and accept the victory."

The 32-year-old is in his fourth year with the Lions, the oldest team in the league with the average age of 31 years and 10 months, and like many of the MK players is considered a veteran.

The Lions shrug off age jibes that greet them at every game, even Newcastle player-coach Fabulous Flournoy mocked their average age ahead of the final saying "most of them are nearly 40."

Kevin Griffin with his Most Valuable Player award after the BBL Cup Final

But it was Lions owner and coach Vince Macauley who had the last laugh as he clutched the trophy and said: "You can't buy age and these old boys are maturing nicely."

With the Eagles and Lions level on points at the top of the league it was always expected to be a tight final and that's exactly how it turned out.

It was the lowest scoring BBL Cup final and after the first quarter the massive Lions travelling support would have been fearing the worst as they trailed 9-13. But Macauley's side turned it around to take the lead which they clung onto despite a late Eagles flurry.

"We had to weather the storm in the first quarter," the coach added, "it's important that Milton Keynes is seen as a team that goes out there and competes with the best and I'm just elated we done that."

Macauley is now hoping he can lead the Lions to more trophies in their most successful season: "I think we have a team that can compete for everything and that's what we well try and do," he said.
